PRODUCT DETAILS

A music system for life
Information, entertainment and a variety of music sources have been beautifully packaged into an all-in-one music system. Whether it's your favourite radio show at breakfast, a Spotify playlist at work or your beloved CD in the evening, the Evoke Home delivers a sizable buffet of audio sources for every music lover. Selecting the right source for every situation and memory and is easy with the help of the flip-up display.

Tastes are different, radio stations too
The Evoke Home is not only very smart in its format, but also a smart radio. As such, the Evoke Home is ready for any reception quality, combining traditional analogue radio (FM), digital radio (DAB) and Internet connectivity for an even more reliable and robust listening experience. A smart radio offers more options, more robust radio reception, on-demand audio streaming of podcasts and the ability to easily make sure the device stays up to date with updates. In the unlikely case of poor FM/DAB+ signals, the Evoke Home is prepared with over 85,000 Internet radio stations and podcasts from around the world via through Internet connection.

Listen to what you want, when you want
Even if you want to use a streaming service like Spotify, the Evoke Home has you covered. Simply select Bluetooth as the audio source to play your favourite content directly from other streaming sources.

CDs are forever
For musical moments and memories that are not yet available via streaming, the Evoke Home offers a way to enjoy them in powerful stereo and modern sound. Equipped with an easy-to-use CD drive, the Evoke Home brings albums and singles that were preferably only released on CD between 1983 and 2003 back into the private limelight. Whether it's beloved out-of-print albums that are not available on Spotify or the mix CD for an anniversary - a CD is forever.

Easy to use for everyone
Switching to the next song or even saving a new favourite station works effortlessly with a flick of the wrist thanks to clear operability. The most important daily routines have been placed clearly and immediately visible on the surface of the Evoke Home. Thanks to an integrated remote control, the music system can also be easily controlled from the couch or the dining table.

The foldable display on the unit not only provides a modern look, but also hides advanced menu settings. For special occasions such as selecting audio sources, Bluetooth setup or equaliser settings, simply flip up the screen and discover the intuitive control panel.

Delivers the sound that inspires
With a powerful 100W audio output, the Evoke Home is sure to impress. Two 20mm soft dome tweeters and two 3.5 inch woofers deliver high clarity and deep bass whether you're listening via Bluetooth, Internet radio, DAB+, FM or CD.

Designed for every living space
The Evoke Home Wood Edition packages modern sound into modern form with great attention to detail. From the unobtrusive shape, thanks to the foldable display, to details such as the illuminated volume control providing feedback when the display is closed - the all-in-one music system fits seamlessly into any interior.

The Evoke Wood Edition is covered on the front with a warm cherry wood speaker grill that delivers a warmer sound. In Coffee Black with cherry wood speaker grill - a warm brown shade that adds a casual atmosphere to your home with the comfort of a warm cup of coffee in the morning.
